- 10:00 - 11:00 Windstärke 12
Wind ensemble of the Nuremberg Music School, which emerged from the adult wind classes of the last 11 years.
- 11:00 - 12:00 Protestant Trombone Choir Association
- 12:00 - 13:00 Bad Kissingen District Orchestra
The Bad Kissingen District Youth Wind Orchestra is the orchestra of choice for the district of Bad Kissingen and has been in existence since 1993. Once a year, young musicians from the district come together to work on a symphonic concert programme. This year, pieces on the theme of film music were developed under the direction of district conductor Tanja Berthold. You can hear a selection of these pieces at this year's akustika.
- 13:00 - 14:00 Symphonic Wind Orchestra of the Nuremberg Music School
- 14:00 - 15:00 District orchestra of the Würzburg district association
The district orchestra of the Würzburg district association has been in existence since 1982 and meets annually for the orchestra training week, which traditionally takes place from Easter Monday and ends on Friday. On Saturday, the programme is performed in a final concert. The orchestra training week offers participants the opportunity to familiarise themselves with new orchestral literature and other instructors and conductors and to play pieces that are not possible in most music societies for reasons of instrumentation, but also to meet young musicians from the city and district. The conductor of the orchestra is Manuel Scheuring.

15:00 - 16:30 WiBraPhon

The WiBraPhon orchestra is primarily intended to offer experienced and motivated musicians who have retained a hunger for new things a home in which they can play an active and committed role and develop their musical talents together. The focus is on professional and highly sensitive work on music combined with a wide-ranging musical repertoire. WiBraPhon favours a predominantly soloist line-up in order to preserve the clarity of the composition as intended by the composer. The orchestra has also set itself the goal of collaborating with internationally renowned soloists and working with composers and publishers of wind music literature. The musicians' participation is entirely voluntary. The conductor of the orchestra is Prof. Johann Mösenbichler.

16:30 - 18:00 North Bavarian Youth Wind Orchestra

Lovers of symphonic wind music and all those who want to become one will experience a colourful programme at the highest level. The young musicians will be performing great works of symphonic wind music. Timor Chadik will be the musical director at the conductor's desk. Timor Chadik is particularly well known as the long-standing director of the Bundeswehr Big Band. Alexander Wurz on tenor horn will also be a great soloist. He is currently one of the most sought-after soloists on his instrument and will enrich the orchestra with his unmistakable sound. The NBJBO is one of the three select orchestras of the North Bavarian Music Association, in which music students and ambitious amateur musicians aged between 15 and 27 regularly come together to play symphonic wind music at the highest level. The 60-strong orchestra is looking forward to welcoming interested listeners.

Sunday 10. March 2024

10:00 - 11:00 District Orchestra Ansbach
This year, 60 musicians from 21 music societies in the district, but also beyond the district's borders, will play together in this project orchestra. Tobias Hauenstein, district conductor in Ansbach, has put together a concert programme covering the entire spectrum of brass band music, including "The Legend of Maracaibo", "Gershwin in Concert" and "80s Kulttour 2".

11:00 - 12:15 District Youth Orchestra Upper Palatinate
The District Youth Orchestra of the Upper Palatinate sees itself as a supplement to the local music association and aims to motivate and support young musicians aged 14 and over.

12:15 - 13:30 North Bavarian Youth Wind Orchestra

14:45 - 16:00 District Orchestra Upper Franconia
Every year since the 1980s, the district selection orchestra has brought together a selection of talented musicians from all over Upper Franconia. Under the direction of experienced district conductors, first Georg Maderer and later Michael Botlik, impressive concerts have been performed every year since then. Milestones in the orchestra's history include the production of the CD "Salutations" with Bayerischer Rundfunk, several performances of Johan de Meij's symphony "Lord of the Rings" with the ballet of the State Opera in Nuremberg and participation in international music competitions and concert tours. For the concert at the "Akustika" music fair, the former solo flutist of the "El Paso Symphony Orchestra" Ana Maria Sanchez Bertoluzzi has been engaged as soloist. Conducted by Michael Saffer, the orchestra will perform works by Leonard Bernstein, Johann Strauss, Alfred Reed and John Williams.
